WELCOME ADDRESSES

Welcome Address from the EPATH President

Dear colleagues,

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 3rd EPATH meeting entitled “Inside Matters, on Law, Ethics and Religion”, on behalf of the EPATH Board, the Scientific Committee and the Local Organizing Committee. EPATH is designed to support scientific and professional interaction among all fields in transgender health, and wishes to promote transgender care in Europe.

Continuing the excitement and the momentum of EPATH 2015, held in Ghent, Belgium, and EPATH 2017 in Belgrade, Serbia, the Programme Organizing Committee has gathered European, international and local experts to build a new scientific symposium. EPATH addresses key issues in the discipline and related areas, at clinical, basic and translational levels, and promises again to be an exciting forum for discussion, learning and networking.

There is clearly a strong interest in EPATH, as we never before received so many abstract and workshop submissions. The scientific programme has been made based on rigorous and double-blind peer review of the submitted abstracts for all oral, posters and workshops submissions by the EPATH Scientific Committee. The presenting authors have been selected based on the quality of their submitted scientific research, and our Language Policy was a guiding principle in our feedback to all authors. Accepted abstract are presented as Oral Communications or Attended Posters.

In total, the EPATH programme features 14 global opinion-leading scientists delivering plenary lectures, 16 workshops covering the most salient topics in current transgender health, and 155 oral or poster presentations. This edition will have the largest trans specific scientific program in Europe to date. This will be a great opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with the renowned experts and upcoming researchers and clinicians in our field.

Our popular sessions ‘Transgender Health Care in Europe’ and ‘The Year in Review’ are back in the programme. Don’t miss these, because you will learn about clinical services and practices from different parts of Europe, and get a synoptic review of notable recent literature in various sub-specialities of transgender care. Attending those sessions will save you a lot of time later on, as the speakers took on the task to summarize all recent and relevant research data.

The scientific programme has been made based on rigorous and double-blind peer review of the submitted abstracts for all oral, posters and workshops submissions by the EPATH Scientific Committee. The presenting authors have been selected based on the quality of their submitted scientific research, and our Language Policy was a guiding principle in our feedback to all authors. Accepted abstract are presented as Oral Communications or Attended Posters. This time we have a full programme for law, as well as for voice and communication, and double as many sessions of social sciences. Also, we're pleased to host a "surgeons only day" on April 11th in close collaboration with the European Association for Gender Surgery (EAFGS).

Furthermore, the EPATH board holds its promise to organise a free public event as part of each EPATH conference, in which keynote speakers present actual challenges in the academic, clinical and policy domains of transgender health care. This way the board hopes to foster the dialogue between civil society, politicians and academics in the region the conference is held, and opens its doors to those not able to attend scientific conferences. We could not resist dedicating one specific session on religion, hence the location of the conference.

As during the previous editions, in line with good governance arrangements, all attendees, speakers, sponsors and volunteers at the conference are required to agree with our Code of Conduct. We expect cooperation from all participants to help ensure a safe environment for everybody. The code of conduct can also be found at www.epath.eu.

We encourage each of you to listen, to learn, to disagree, to debate, and if required to argue, and most of all to enjoy both, old and new friendships. We also urge you to take advantage of our social programme that aims to create an environment where you will meet your colleagues with plenty of time to network.

We are confident that EPATH 2019 Rome will strongly reflect the mission of EPATH: to foster the European knowledge and skills in transgender care, to facilitate and extend the bonds between European countries in transgender care and to spread the results of research and experiences by publishing reports and organizing scientific conferences and meetings and to collaborate with international organisations with the same or related aims.

An organisation such as EPATH is evolving, and major steps have been taken to ground our organisation for the future. Registered as an international non-profit association in December 2018, the EPATH board organised its first elections in the Spring of 2019. During this conference, we invite all EPAH members to our first general assembly, where the new board members will be announced, and all EPATH members will be able to choose between two locations where our next conference will take place. We will also listen carefully to your suggestions for future editions, and how we as an organisation can grow together.

This year we are happy to collaborate with the support of Of'Cores who will take care of the logistics of this edition. Feel free to ask this team for information, directions or assistance if you would need so. And if you are just happy, also let us know.

The city of Rome does not need a lot of introduction. We hope that you will find the time, before or after the conference to find out about Rome's world-renowned landmarks, numerous ruins, trendy neighbourhoods and dramatic churches.

We thank our Italian hosts of this Conference for their collaboration, and hope you enjoy the congress and consider EPATH 2019 Rome as a valuable contribution to your professional development.

Prof. dr. Guy T'Sjoen,

EPATH President

Welcome Address from your Hosts

Dear visitors, dear guests,

It is a great pleasure to welcome you all to the 3rd EPATH Conference in Rome on behalf of the Scientific and Local Organising Committee.

The theme of the Conference is “Inside Matters: On Law, Ethics & Religion” emphasizing the current and permanent efforts of different professionals in the field to promote mental, physical and social health of transgender people in Europe with significant impact in improving their quality of life and ensuring rights for their healthy development and well-being.

By fostering the main aims of EPATH, this Conference promotes and requires the concerted action of different parties involved, from professionals in physical and mental health, child and adolescence, social sciences, voice and communication, law, stakeholders within the health sector and many others.

Particular attention will be dedicated this year to Religion, Spirituality and Wellbeing for Trans People and to Depathologisation.

As with the previous Conferences in Ghent and Belgrade, the programme will continue with Symposia within different streams designed for this meeting covering mental health, children and adolescents, endocrinology, law, social science, voice and communication, and surgery. Regarding surgery, on April 11th, the EPATH conference will host a “surgeons only day” in close collaboration with the European Association for Gender Surgery (EAFGS).

The Conference will host almost 600 participants; 16 workshops and 155 oral and poster presentations, which are reflecting the main goals of EPATH to facilitate learning, discussion, and exchange among European and other international professionals. In a word, it is going to be the biggest scientific event on transgender issues ever in Europe! This will be a great opportunity to meet and exchange ideas with renowned experts and up-coming researchers and clinicians in our field.

A special focus of the 3rd EPATH Conference will be a free public event as part of each EPATH conference, in which keynote speakers Susannah Cornwall (University of Exeter, UK), Dinah Bons (Strategic Director Transgender Europe) and Vladimir Luxuria will present actual challenges in the academic, clinical and policy domains of transgender health care. This session specifically invites NGO's, public authorities and the general public interested in the topic of transgender health care. Respecting and stressing the multidisciplinary concept in this field, the Conference will bring together expert clinicians, researchers and activists strengthening intensive collaboration of all involved parties.

It will be a great opportunity for all participants to present, exchange and learn about contemporary scientific and clinical data.

The Scientific and Local Organising Committee is proud to host the 3rd EPATH Conference in Rome and assume responsibility to achieve the main EPATH goals.

We hope the Conference will improve future Trans Health Care in Europe and that it will represent an unforgettable personal and professional experience for all participants. We look forward having a great scientific meeting and welcome you to Rome, the “Eternal City”.

Your hosts,

Alessandra Fisher

Jiska Ristori

PROGRAMME INFO

Scientific Presentations

The conference offers plenary lectures by keynote speakers, as well as oral & poster presentations organised in 7 different streams (Mental Health, Children and Adolescents, Endocrinology, Law, Social Sciences, Surgery, Voice and Communication).

Additionally, we offer 16 multidisciplinary workshops, which address introductory issues and clinical training for (new) professionals in transgender health care, as well as workshops debating current challenges faced in transgender health care.

Oral Presentations

All selected oral presentations in the stream sessions can be 15 minutes long, including 5 minutes Q&A. Workshops last 90 minutes.

We strongly advise all presenters to prepare their talks using PowerPoint (and not alternate presentation software). Please use standard size 16:9. A media projector with a PC laptop (not MAC) will be provided for in each conference room.

In order to avoid technical difficulties we ask you to upload your PowerPoint presentations by visiting the Ex Ordo abstract submission system. PowerPoint presentations may be uploaded under “Presentations” on the Dashboard of the abstract service (Ex Ordo). All presentation will be available on the laptop (downloaded from this website) in the conference room you’re presenting in. Only when you have given your consent, this presentation is made publicly visible to allow others to view your scientific contributions.

Poster presentations

Accepted poster presenters are required to bring and affix their research poster on Thursday April 11, 2019. Posters can be maximum paper size A1 (594 x 841 mm / 23.4 x 33.1 inch), portrait format.

During the poster session, from 16h30 – 17h30, the researcher is required to be present, to answer questions posed by passing colleagues. The audience of the conference will get the opportunity to nominate the best poster during this session. The best poster award will be announced later during the conference. The conference organisers do not accept unattended posters.

Code of Conduct

This year, in line with good governance arrangements, all attendees, speakers, sponsors and volunteers at the 3rd biennial EPATH conference are required to agree with the following code of conduct. We expect cooperation from all participants to help ensure a safe environment for everybody. This code of conduct can also be found at www.epath.eu.

The 3rd biennial EPATH conference takes place in a friendly environment where everyone should feel welcome, safe and comfortable to share ideas and engage in open discussion without threat of intimidation or public humiliation.

We expect all conference participants to be respectful in person and online towards other delegates, speakers, organizers, staff and volunteers.

We expect all conference participants to behave and to use language that is respectful, non-pathologising and consistent with human rights standards, taking into account its shifting and complex contextual and cultural character. Ultimately this caution applies equally to transgender health and all other formal and informal settings in which human interaction takes place. Please refer to our Language Policy.

We are committed to providing a harassment-free conference and training experience for everyone, regardless of gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, or religion. Harassment of participants, speakers, staff or volunteers in any form will not be tolerated.

Harassment includes offensive verbal comments, and other forms of using disrespectful and pathologising language inconsistent with human rights standards, deliberate intimidation, stalking, following, harassing, photography or recording without explicit consent, sustained disruption of talks or other events, inappropriate physical contact, and unwelcome sexual attention. Conference participants asked to stop any harassing behaviour are expected to comply immediately. These policies apply in every space at the venue related to conference, and to all participants in every role.

If a participant engages in harassing behaviour, EPATH may take any action they deem appropriate, including warning the offender or expulsion from the conference with no refund.

If you are being harassed, notice that someone else is being harassed, or have any other concerns, please contact a member of conference staff immediately.

We will be happy to assist those experiencing harassment to feel safe for the duration of the event, for example by providing escorts. Contacting police should be the last resource if this is required.

We expect conference participants to follow these rules at all event venues and related social events.

We trust that this code of conduct mirrors the views of the vast majority of our participants.

Mission: To promote evidence-based care, education, research, advocacy, public policy, and respect in transgender health.

Vision: We envision a world wherein people of all gender identities and gender expressions have access to evidence-based healthcare, social services, justice and equality.

Goals and Tasks

As an international interdisciplinary, professional organization, the World Professional Association for Transgender Health (WPATH) will work to further the understanding and treatment of gender dysphoria by professionals in medicine, psychology, law, social work, counseling, psychotherapy, family studies, sociology, anthropology, sexology, speech and voice therapy, and other related fields.

WPATH provides opportunities for professionals from various sub-specialties to communicate with each other in the context of research and treatment of gender dysphoria including sponsoring biennial scientific symposia.

WPATH publishes the Standards of Care and Ethical Guidelines, which articulate a professional consensus about the psychiatric, psychological, medical, and surgical management of gender dysphoria and help professionals understand the parameters within which they may offer assistance to those with these conditions.
